

FOOTBALL CO-OP
BOBBY KRUG
3/4/2019

VIDEO	[SEGMENT TIME]	AUDIO	[TRT]
[ANCHOR ON CAM] TOM ATWOOD RR: 0:11		[ANCHOR INTRO] ATWOOD: Due to declining participation, two local high school football teams have combined forces to save the program; but how well is the merger football team doing? Bobby Krug has more from Mount Olive.
[TAKE PACKAGE] CU, OF 50 YARD MARKER/FOOTBALL		[TAKE PACKAGE] KRUG: The Friday night lights, the queen coronation, the homecoming parade: all of these bring the small town of Mount Olive together.
MS, OF HOMECOMING QUEEN	[:02]
	[:01]
MS, FOLLOWING PLAYERS THROUGH PARADE	[:02]	But this might be one of the last years we see football played at Mount Olive.
LS, KIDS AND PARENTS WATCHING PARADE	[:03]	Last year, the Mount Olive Wildcats merged with one of their biggest rivals, the Bunker Hill Minutemen in an effort to maintain their football program, becoming the South Mac Chargers.
MS, FOLLOWING PLAYER THROUGH PLAYER INTRODUCTIONS	[:05]
WS, PARADE, CO-OP FLOAT	[:04]
MS, UP ANGLE AT PLAYERS	[:03]
MS, FOOTBALL SIGN	[:02]
MS, PATRICK MURPHY	[:02]	MURPHY NQ: "Football is a much bigger problem..."	[:25]
KEY GRAPHICS: Patrick Murphy Superintendent	[:07]	OUT Q: "it's a national problem."	[:32]
MS, FANS CLAPPING WITH CHEER	[:04]	KRUG: Superintendent of Mount Olive Schools, Patrick Murphy says the declining participation in football is caused by many factors, including the general decrease of student involvement in physical extracurricular activities and the publicity of concussions within the sport of football.
MS, CHEERLEADERS PERFORMING	[:03]
MS, DOWN ANGLE PLAYERS PRAYING	[:06]
MS, UP ANGLE SENIOR FOOTBALL PLAYER	[:03]		[:49]

MS, PATRICK MURPHY		MURPHY NQ: "There is a lot of research out there..."
	[:06]
MS, FOOTBALL PLAY		OUT Q: "...any longer because of that area."
	[:04]
CU, RACK FOCUS FROM 50 YARD MARKER TO FOOTBALL PLAY
	[:03]
MS > LS, ZOOM OUT FOOTBALL PLAY TO ASSISTANT COACH
	[:03]
MS, PATRICK MURPHY
	[:02]		[1:07]
MS, HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING		KRUG: Last year, Mount Olive contributed 16 players to the co-op. This year it has dropped to nine and next year they are only expected to have four players, which puts the co-op at a risk of coming to a quick end.
	[:04]
MS, HIGH SCHOOL SIGN
	[:05]
LS, HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING
	[:04]		[1:21]
MS, FOOTBALL PLAYERS		PLAYER NQ: "This year, we're not as good..."
	[:02]
MS, FRESHMAN FOOTBALL PLAYER		OUT Q: "...upperclassmen playing who've played before."
	[:04]
MS, UP ANGLE PRE-KICKOFF
	[:03]
MS, FOOTBALL PLAYERS
	[:02]		[1:34]
CU, HEAD COACH		KRUG: "Head coach for the South Mac Chargers, Brian Borkowski, has enjoyed the time he's spent with the players and hopes the co-op lasts for the long run."
	[:02]
MS, HEAD COACH WITH PLAYERS ON SIDELINE
	[:04]
MS, HEAD COACH IN HUDDLE WITH PLAYERS
	[:04]		[1:45]
MS, BRIAN BORKOWSKI		BORKOWSKI NQ: "It would be disappointing..."
KEY GRAPHICS: Brian Borkowski Head Coach		OUT Q: "...best interest of Mount Olive then that's the best interest."
	[:08]
MS, STUDENTS LINING CHAIN FENCE
	[:04]
MS, STUDENTS ON PARADE FLOAT
	[:02]
MS, POLICE CAR LEADING PARADE
	[:04]
MS, BRIAN BORKOWSKI
	[:02]		[2:07]

